Introduction

Breaking into investment banking is highly competitive, and preparation is key. This guide compiles interview questions that past candidates and interns have shared with us across a range of banks — from global bulge brackets to elite boutiques and Canadian firms.

The goal is to give students and aspiring analysts a clearer picture of the types of technical, behavioral, and market-awareness questions that interviewers may ask. While every interview is different, reviewing real-world examples can help candidates build confidence and sharpen their preparation.

Use this resource to:

- Understand the range of questions commonly asked.
- Practice answering under time pressure.
- Spot patterns across banks, groups, and interview rounds.
- Improve your technical fluency and market awareness.

Evercore

2024 Summer Investment Banking Analyst

1st Round

- Tell me about yourself.
- Why Evercore?
- Why investment banking over private equity?
- Why tech?
- Tell me about a company you're interested in.
- Tell me about a time you received harsh feedback — how did you respond?
- Tell me about a time you were in a conflict — how did you resolve it?
- Tell me about a high-pressure situation and how you managed it.
- How would reducing financial leverage affect a company's cost of equity?
- What is beta? How does beta differ between Louis Vuitton and GAP?
- What is the beta of a lottery ticket?
- Would you rather have a 5% increase in unit prices or unit volumes?
- A company with a 10x P/E acquires a company with a 5x P/E — accretive or dilutive?
 - What assumptions must you make to answer this?
- In an LBO, would you rather have a $10 increase in debt paydown or a $10 increase in EBITDA?
- If an apple tree produces $100 consistently, what is its intrinsic value?
- Which tech companies would make strong buyout candidates?

Superday

- Walk me through a DCF.
- You buy a factory for $200 (half cash, half debt). Walk me through the 3-statement impact at purchase and at year-end. Assume:
 - 5-year useful life, straight-line depreciation, no residual value.
 - 40% tax rate.
 - 10% interest rate.

Investment Banking Internship - Energy (Non-Cycle Specific)

1st Round

- Why energy?
- Walk me through the three financial statements.
- Walk me through the three main valuation methodologies.

Technicals

- What is beta?
- How would beta differ for upstream vs. midstream vs. downstream companies?
